Dr. Carr Sees Greater Future For College

Illustrious commission—My children, never allow any man to cast aspersions on the fair name of your Alma Mater.

Ideals of the Founders
The ideals as conceived by the founders of this college may be summarized only briefly.

This college was to be a part of a great system of education for all of the people of Kentucky.

It was to be located in the extreme western portion of the state where there were no colleges, in a region separated by great rivers from the rest of the commonwealth.

It was to be a thoroughly democratic institution in which the children of all of the people might have an equal opportunity for a college education.

It was to be a normal school in the best sense of the word—a school whose chief function was to train teachers who would go into all parts of the community to teach little children, not only the rudiments of learning but the fine art of living.

The course of study was to be a vital thing which would change as the needs and conditions of the people change.

The faculty was to be composed of scholarly and professionally trained men and women of the finest character who would teach both by precept and by example and who would regard their work as a noble profession.

The school plant consisting of buildings, grounds and equipment was to be simple, adequate, artistic and useful. It was to be of such a nature as to afford a wholesome physical environment suitable alike for work and for play.

The social environment was to be friendly, hospitable, wholesome, morally salutary—an environment among a people who opened not only their homes but their hearts to faculty and students alike.

Lastly, and perhaps most important of all, the management of the new institution was to be able and honest, free from the blighting influence of politics and from the more debasing influence of nepotism and personal greed.

Such, in brief, were the ideals of the founders of this college. Fortunately these ideals have been accepted by those who have come after them—members of the Board of Regents, presidents, faculty and practically all others who have had a part in the management and development of this institution.

Fortunate, indeed, will your Alma Mater be if these ideals are cherished and defended by you and those who are to come after you.

Realization of Ideals
Remember that the master sculptor not only saw the imprisoned angel but remembered also that he went to work with might and main and with almost infinite skill to free the angel. Ideals amount to nothing unless they are realized. It was a beautiful dream which the members of the Educational Commission had, but not one of them was to play an important part in making that dream come true. That honor was reserved for others.

Fortunately for this college, the members of the Board of Regents had not been enacted in 1924. That law was drawn by Dr. Wells and his influence was necessary to its passage.

The ideals of this college enumerated above would never have been realized in concrete form, if they had not been his ideals also.

These are but a few of the distinguished services rendered to this institution by Dr. Rainey T. Wells. Long may he live! Even longer may he be remembered by the sons and daughters of Murray State Teachers College.

Triumph Over Criticism
I shall not attempt to review the difficulties and dangers which this institution has encountered from the very beginning. I bear no ill will to its critics. I am even willing to concede that much of the criticism was made in good faith by honest but mistaken men.

The thing that I wish to call especially to your attention is the fact that in spite of a veritable barrage of criticism this institution—your fair young mother—has continued to grow, and to develop, and to become fairer and more useful every year. The only effect that the fires of criticism have had is to burn away the dross, to achieve a college education at this institution.

It is possible that the Tennessee Valley experiment will open the gates of opportunity to many deserving young men and young women to achieve a college education at this institution.

I repeat the greatest days of this college are ahead of us.

One of Our Needs
One of the needs of this college is for the people in general to really know it. Of course, they know about it in a general way, but they do not know it intimately and personally as they deserve to know it. They should know the ideals which have been dominant from the beginning. They should know the fidelity with which these ideals have been wrought into its very being. They should know faculty and students and the splendid morale that exists here. They should know the ideals which are fostered and which are being made to discriminate these ideals among the whole people. Those who support this institution and whose children are destined to be educated here are entitled to know your Alma Mater at her best. They should hear her story from your own lips. They should see her mirrored in your own lives. They should learn of her ministrations by the way you minister unto others.

The greatest speech which I have heard on this campus was made by Mr. Allman Beale, one of the honored citizens of this community. I was the first to hear it. The occasion was Mr. Beale's first visit to the new library. He was impressed by the beauty of the building and the happiness of the students at their work. His mind reverted to the days of his youth. He was filled with emotion.

"God still visits his people!" was the opening sentence. "When he had concluded 'I said Amen,' I too felt the power of His visitation."

Only the Master Workman of us all can free the imprisoned angel—the human soul.

Dr. Wells' Telegram
Dr. J. Carr, President
Murray State College

Permit me to express my appreciation for your continuation as president of the college and your devotion to this college and to public education. May I assure you of my continued support and assistance in the college under your administration. Some have faltered and declined but you never have. Regret my inability to attend commencement. My heart is with you and expect next year to be the greatest in the history of the college.

Kirksey Kinklets

Very little news this week. Tobacco cutting is the order of the day, but this nice rain stopped everything.

We feel grateful to Him for this refreshing shower which was badly needed.

The latest thing out, that we know of, is the last shower of tobacco worms on late tobacco. The seem to be curtailing pounds rather than the acreage, so sit up and take notice of them.

Read Isa. 55, also Rev. 22.

Mrs. Alice Alexander of Benton and her son, Albert Alexander of Washington, D. C., visited relatives and friends in this section a few days ago.

Quite a number from the Locust Grove church visited the Holiness Church near Stubbsfield last Sunday. Bro. Collier of Nashville is holding a two weeks meeting there at that church with fine success.

Mrs. Mac Riley is no better at this time.

Mrs. Paris Swift conducted the prayer service at Locust Grove last Sunday night with a fine interest and a fairly good audience was present. Next Sunday night Elder Overy York will conduct the services. Everyone welcomed—Lacy Ned.

H. T. Waldrop Has Fine Farm Products

Postmaster H. T. Waldrop displayed fine farm products Tuesday afternoon. Several stalks of fine corn were brought to Murray to be shown to friends among which was a stalk 15 feet 4 inches tall with three developed ears. Other stalks shorter in length had four ears. The corn is of the white prolific variety.

Mr. Waldrop also had a stalk of perennial cotton which was 7 feet in height. This is unusually high for cotton and Mr. Waldrop was very proud of his showing. The corn and cotton were grown on his farm just south of Murray on the Hazel Highway.

DR. BARR'S WORK HERE RECOGNIZED

Given Seat in Division of University Pastors for Work at Murray State College.

In recognition of the work he is doing on the campus of Murray State Teachers College, Dr. J. C. Barr, who is the minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Murray, was given a seat in the Division of University Pastors at the Fifth Annual Conference of Ministers held in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Chicago July 30 to August 4 inclusive.

Dr. Barr says:

"This proved to be the greatest conference, in numbers, to date. The actual registered enrollment was 279 ministers. These were largely alumni of this great seminary. But there were also present, ministers from other schools from all over the nation and from all over the world.

All the sessions of this conference were held in the lecture rooms in the chapel, and in the state commons (the last named erected in 1929) on the 20 acre tract, numbered 2330 Holstead street. The ministers were lodged in the commodious dormitories, including Fowler Hall, of the seminary. The attendance was so great that overflow accommodations had to be arranged in neighboring buildings.

The management of the conference was humanly perfect under the unobtrusive and wise direction of Dr. Norman E. Richardson.

The lectures and addresses, which crowded the mornings leaving the afternoons free for recreation and study, and occupied the evenings of every day, were of a very high order. There were too many for any individual to catch all of them. Choices had to be made and the richness of the offerings made choosing near bewildering. For instance, for lack of space all could not hear him, but none who heard his brilliant and searching lectures will ever forget Dean Karl R. Stolz of Harvard.

"Addresses in the chapel every evening at 7:30, to be enjoyed by all, were those of Dr. O. W. Warmingham of Boston University—The Christ of Beauty, The Christ of Duty, The Christ of Conflict, The Christ of Perseverance.

"Then there were the morning hours in the chapel filled by Drs. W. S. Sadler, Louis Matthews Sweet, Robert Worth Frank, R. Ames Montgomery.

"The high water mark of the conference was reached in the chapel Friday morning, when Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago and president of the seminary, spoke with characteristic simplicity, laying down and maintaining the proposition that the two-fold and supreme obligation of the Christian is to live a holy life and to win souls. Again and again, during the delivery of this all too brief message, great stores of spiritual power were released, and it seemed to one hearer, at least, that a revival was due to break forth.

"A notable event, though entirely unofficial and informal, was the graphic statement, made on request, by Dr. Samuel L. Hodge of Lincoln University of Lincoln, Pa., concerning the Oxford movement. Dr. Hodge was just returned from Oxford University of England where he had been in this movement at its full tide. He described it as a mighty revolution that is sweeping bishops and clergy and laity—nobles and commoners—of the church of England as well as man other Christians of all nations and peoples into a great crushing and irresistible wave of personal and social consecration and revival in the things of God and His Holy Word.

"The lectures and seminars in the Division of University Pastors, under the sponsorship of Dr. Hugh Moran of Cornell University, Dr. J. Walter Malone of McKinley Memorial Church of Champlain, Ill., Dr. W. P. Lemon of Iowa City, Iowa, Dr. M. E. Framp-ton of Boston, Dr. Alfred Lee Kiser of Ann Arbor, Mich., and all this veritable galaxy of vibrant men and women who are swinging the college and university life of America to God and His Christ. "A sixth conference to convene the week ending August 2, 1935, is already being arranged and even now promises to outstrip all the past."

Christian Workers Training School at Methodist Church

Sunday, September 2, at 2:30 P. M. the Methodist church will begin a training school for Christian workers. There will be three teachers employed in the school: the Rev. G. C. Fain, pastor of First Church, Paris, Tenn., will offer the course in administration; the Rev. A. M. Thomas of Jackson, Tenn., conference director of Young People's work, will teach a course in "Young People's Organization"; and the General Board at Nashville, Tenn., will furnish a teacher for the primaries and juniors.

The classes will meet each evening during the week. All teachers, officers, superintendents, and any one who is interested in the work of the Sunday School are urged to attend.

We also extend a cordial invitation to the other churches of town to attend these classes. There is no expense.

If any further information is desired concerning the school call the pastor.

Sunday worship at the usual hours: Morning worship 11 A. M. The pastor will preach at both services.

O. A. Marrs, Pastor

Dr. O. C. Wells Sponsors Club for Children

Dr. O. C. Wells is sponsor for the local chapter of a national organization for boys and girls known as the Observers Club. The sole objective of this club is eye-sight conservation.

There are no dues or other fees. The only requirement for membership is a pledge by each boy and girl to avoid harmful reading habits, and give his or her eyes the same care accorded the most priceless possession.

After children qualify for membership, they are given an attractive emblem and four handbooks on sports, hobbies, magic, and other subjects of interest to boys and girls. All of these handbooks stress the importance of good eyesight at play and in school.

"Organizers of the Observers Club," said Dr. Wells, "believe that this organization will be a real factor in making both parents and children keenly conscious of the importance of healthy eyes."

"We want to create interest in better vision," continued Dr. Wells. "We are anxious to arouse a child's desire to have perfect eyesight, and make him able to see well as proud an accomplishment as to skate or to swim well."

So, spectacles become, to a child, a badge of honor instead of a necessary evil.

KIRKSEY CIRCUIT

Revival begins at Mt. Carmel Sunday with the Rev. W. G. Wall of Dresden, Tenn., assisting the pastor.

The Woman's Missionary Society will have its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the church. W. M. Vaughan, Pastor

Cream Producers Given Warning

The letter reprinted below, from the Chief of the Food and Drug Administration at Washington, has been sent to every creamery and milk plant in the United States. Every producer of cream and milk should read it carefully.

"The Federal Food and Drug Act, which is applicable to interstate shipments of food products, defines a food as adulterated, among other conditions, if it is filthy, decomposed or putrid. In the enforcement of this statute the Food and Drug Administration has encountered shipments of both butter and cream adulterated in this respect. Action has been taken under the law against such shipments. Not only are consignments of adulterated dairy products subject to seizure, but the responsible shippers are liable to criminal prosecution under the law.

"It is evident that the objectionable conditions responsible for the adulteration are largely the result of carelessness in the handling of the cream itself at various stages from the time of production up to its manufacture into butter, and that the condition of the butter itself is traceable to the unfit character of the cream used in its manufacture.

"Producers, shippers and users of cream are warned that precautions should immediately be taken by every agency concerned, from the producer of the cream to the ultimate manufacturer and shipper of the butter, to correct this situation. The Administration has observed with approval the steps taken by various branches of the industry for improvement. These steps are essential, but to be effective must be participated in by each and every branch of the industry, including cream producers, cream purchasers, cream receivers and shippers, and creameries.

"1. Cream, and milk from which it comes, must be protected at every stage from contamination with filth. Scrupulous cleanliness of person and surroundings, containers and equipment is a governing factor at all stages in the production and handling of sound wholesome cream as in the case of any product intended for human food.

"2. Containers and utensils of all kinds used in connection with milking and with the separation, storage and transportation of cream through every stage up to and including its manufacture into butter must be of such construction as to permit of thorough cleansing and to insure effective protection of the milk or cream against entry of dust, dirt, flies or other insects, rats, mice or other animals, or any other foreign material.

"3. Cleansing should immediately follow the emptying of the particular container or the use of the particular equipment. The maintenance of the cleanliness and protection from dirt and filth of empty containers or equipment not in use must be insured.

"4. Cream must be kept cool. This means temperatures below 50 degrees F. This applies to every step in its storage and transportation. Methods and devices which are practicable for the purpose will vary under different circumstances. Where it is impossible to control the temperature of storage rooms or transportation vehicles, cooling of containers by the use of wet cloths should be resorted to.

"5. Frequent deliveries of cream and avoidance of mixing different lots will facilitate its arrival at creameries in the best possible condition.

"These fundamental principles should have the serious attention of the entire industry and should be closely and studiously observed as a means of correcting unsatisfactory conditions now existing, and obviating the necessity for prosecutions under the Food and Drug Act. They are submitted with the concurrence and approval of the Bureau of Dairy Industry which, upon request, will be glad to offer the detailed suggestions to anyone engaged in the production and handling of cream or butter.

"W. G. Campbell, Chief"

"You're too modest!"
Motorists who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say, "You're too modest!" Many of them report 50% to 100% more non-skid mileage. Why, then, do we insist on only 43%? Well, 43% is a definite test-car-proved figure. Very likely it is low for normal use—because the tests which established the 43% average were gruelling: cars speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, mile after mile, day and night. Very likely most motorists will get more than 43% more non-skid mileage. But we'll string along with 43%—because it's plenty to deliver at no extra cost. Come see the tire that's the talk of the nation.

Across the River

The goldenrods are blooming again so it must be nearing autumn, and excepting for the pessimistic thought that it's the fore-runner of winter we will certainly welcome fall.

People have been blessed with fruit this season, and over here the corn crops are fine, so with David and in Palms we say, "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness and for his wonderful works to the children of men."

Most all the revivals are over, though Bros. Thurman and Nelson are just beginning the meeting here at Poplar Spring. The house was filled to overflowing most every evening during the services at Poplar Spring in Calloway, and that and the surrounding neighborhoods enjoyed not only a revival of religion but also of friendships as they visited each other in the old-fashioned way.

Bro. and Mrs. J. H. Thurman, Bro. and Mrs. Ed Outland, and Bro. Key were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lewis one day. Miss Louise Miller also spent a few days with them and their relatives last week.

I certainly feel like I missed something being unable to attend meeting at Sulphur Spring. Would have enjoyed seeing old acquaintances as well as hearing Bro. Baker's inspiring sermons.

Junior Spiceland narrowly escaped death by being caught under an overturned truck after coasting down a steep hill and attempting to make a curve last week. He suffered a broken leg and sprained arm besides severe cuts and bruises.

Cornelia Spiceland won a lovely quilt by giving one nickel to the Ginger Creek Club a few weeks ago.

A demonstration club near by has a canner so we're planning to have some corn canned in tin cans.

I hope everybody read that confession about prison life which Joe Palmer made. My! But mothers and fathers have a great responsibility when they attempt to rear children and how terrible it must be to see ones life spent and end as that poor 'unfortunate'!

The more I read newspapers and learn how little ill gotten gain profits one, the more content I am to settle down in my little rut and pacify myself with the admonishment, "With food and raiment be there-with content."

22 ATTEND MEET OF HEALTH UNITS

Mrs. E. B. Houston and Dr. H. M. McKirath on Program; All 5 Counties Represented.

Twenty-two representatives of the five county health units members of the West Kentucky Health Units Association met in Murray Monday with the Murray unit as host. Dr. H. A. Stille, Benton, presided at the meetings. A business session was held during the morning at the county health office and dinner was served at the National Hotel.

The afternoon program was given at the hotel with Mrs. E. B. Houston, chairman of the Public Instruction committee of the state of the Women's Medical Auxiliary, speaking on the interest of the auxiliary in public health work.

Those attending were: Mr. Hogshead, Dr. E. Prather, Mrs. Harry Barry, Fulton county; Miss Artie Robery and Dr. Harrell, and E. W. Weatherford, Carlisle; Sewell Wright, Dr. Chas. Hunt, Hickman; Mrs. J. A. Fisher, Fulton; Dr. S. H. Henson, Will Ely, Dr. V. A. Stille, Benton; Dr. J. A. Outland, Miss Virginia Bryan, Linville Yates, Callaway; Mrs. Pauline Myers, State Board of Health, Mrs. E. B. Houston, Murray.

The health units of the five counties, Marshall, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Callaway were represented. This was one of the first meetings in several months and a more active organization has been planned.

Dr. V. A. Stille gave an interesting talk on general health work. Miss Pauline Myers, of state board, gave a short talk and Mr. Hogshead, state board representative, gave a talk on sanitation.

The Thoroughbreds left such a delicious taste in the mouths of the fans last season that they are begging for more of such appealing delicacies that the horses handed out last season. And the "cake" is taking on satisfactory ingredients, according to all reports heard and from what we can see.

After the "perfect" day over at Bowling Green last year, I haven't been the same little lad. To those who saw the Hilltopper tumble under the hoofs of the "Thundering Herd" there is nothing more to be said, but to those who failed to see the downfall of ye old rivals, I just feel sorry for them.

For they will never know or even begin to realize the events of that great historical fact of Murray State.

I am waiting like a hound tied to a oak post with a rabbit doing a "fan" dance in front of his dainty nostrils to see the Did-dle-dle clash with Coaches Cut-shin and Stiller's chosen this year. That will be a classic in putting in, in very, very mild terms and let me tell you now those Hilltoppers are out for revenge in the largest sense of the meaning.

I am speaking now for a seat so I will be able to see these "institutions" meet on Murray soil Saturday, November 17.

And lest we forget, I want to mention again so that all concerned will have opportunity to give consideration to the naming of the new stadium which probably will be in use this fall.

After explaining in a past issue of this paper why I and others endorsed the naming of the structure "Gilbert Graves Stadium," I see no reason why anyone should object and furthermore I dare say no-one will attempt to name it otherwise.

In the Murray State song will be found the words, "To do or die." Friends, Gilbert Graves was of that type, he "died," and to our great sorrow his life ended in the springtime of his career paying his tribute to the institution that we all love so well. May I in closing repeat the chorus of the Alma Mater Song of Murray State: May we cherish thy traditions Hold thy banner high Ever guard thy name and glory Live and do or die.

RALPH'S RANGLES

Within a few short weeks Murray grid fans will get that restless, foot-itching, heart-pounding sensation that visits them each year at about this season of the year. This certain little "sport bug" begins to awaken along the last of August and he travels high, wide and handsome, biting children as well as adults and sets a greater part of us human beings off for a wild and glorious three months of apparent barbarian inclination.

The Thoroughbreds left such a delicious taste in the mouths of the fans last season that they are begging for more of such appealing delicacies that the horses handed out last season. And the "cake" is taking on satisfactory ingredients, according to all reports heard and from what we can see.

CAMP MURRAY CHATTERS

By Wm. H. Martin, Jr.

In the most spectacular game of the season the Camp Murray Cubs under Captain Shelton Ray added another to an almost continuous string of victories last Saturday afternoon at Cadiz where they met one of their strongest rivals, the team of Camp Trigg. The baseball team nearing its end found these two teams pitted against each other with consummate skill battling for a place of honor in the finals. The game was looked forward to by both camps with equal confidence and began by each victory being balanced by an opposite one.

The match so progressed to the seventh inning with a five to five tie and the enthusiasm of the rooters on both sides pitched to a high state of expectancy. Downey then stepped to the plate and to the relief of Cadiz, his first two strikes went wild. With a crack which sounded the doom of Camp Trigg he connected with the third ball and dispatched it on its journey to the woods a harbinger of victory for the Cubs.

To offset this spectacular home run, Company 599 committed her reserve, a pinch hitter, to the fight. With consistent skill and coolness, Cunningham, who had pitched a victory a few days before struck him out and helped chalk up our eleventh victory. Williams, Ray, and Fleming led in hitting while Raleigh who had been on the bench for over a month on account of injuries acquitted himself well in this game.

The game with Camp Pace of Benton was a 7-1 victory for the Cubs. Williams, Fleming, and Downey led in hitting. This was the third game with this camp. The Rev. J. E. Skinner of the First Baptist church conducted religious services last Sunday morning. Although several enrollees were on week-end passes attendance was good which is evidence of the continued interest shown by the camp. A party of seven men attended Catholic Mass at Mayfield.

New life and esprit de corps has sprung into the camp as preparation is being made for the Corps Area inspection which will take place Friday. Camp Murray having been designated as outstanding camp of the Western Kentucky District will compete for Fifth Corps Area Honors. The Kirksey F. F. A.

Notes

Keith Venable
The Kirksey Future Farmers did not get to complete their sign this week but plan to build it next week.

The tobacco crop is looking exceptionally well right now. It looks to be a heavy yielding crop with excellent body and quality. The earlier crops were injured by dry weather, but later fields are making fine growth and filling out well. This season seems to show that tobacco may, and perhaps should be, delayed during its early growth, but that it needs plenty of plant food and moisture during the latter stages of growth. This seems to be a very important point in the fertilization and soil treatment for dark tobacco.

Discussions of the soft method of curing tobacco were held at Kirksey and Backsburg the past week. Several farmers in the Kirksey community soft cured tobacco last year.

The Backsburg growers showed considerable interest in this method of curing since very few of them tried it last year. Hill Adams, Elmo Smith, and Roy Billington will use hygrometers in their barns this season. The Backsburg farmers grow some excellent tobacco along the bottom of the West fork of Clark's River and there is no reason why some top crops should not be produced there this year.

Other growers to secure hygrometers are Otis Edwards, G. E. Stone, Otis Patton, Lynn Lawson, and R. L. Ray.

I see some growers who are letting cutting time come and their barns have not been tightened or ventilated.

The trip to Cheatham County, Tenn., is still under consideration but no date has been set, but will probably be made the next Saturday or so.

The feed situation will cause many Calloway farmers worry this winter. The hard arm of the drought has struck a billion bushels from our corn crop and reduced the wheat crop below our normal needs and made hay and forage a thing of the past over great areas of our country. Late rains have improved the lespedeza crop and we should have plenty of fine forage for this winter but our corn will be short. It would be well to winter stock on hay, and to cull other livestock and keep only the best producers. The Department of Agriculture has found that milk may be produced more cheaply with an abundance of good roughage and short grain rations.

We are thinking of sowing barley on some of our better land to provide grain next summer when it will be badly needed. Barley has several good points that might be considered: (1) It is fall sown and provides a winter cover crop; (2) It matures early and thus escapes the mid-summer drought which often injures corn; (3) It may be sown with it and a hay crop secured the same year; (4) It fits well with tobacco. If Calloway farmers are to produce good tobacco they will have to hold down the corn acreage and grow more grasses and legumes. Barley does not do well on thin land and is not as winter-hardy as wheat. It matures about two weeks earlier than wheat.

The supply of hogs, beef cattle, lambs, and poultry is expected to be lower next year and the price is expected to be much better. We should try to keep our best breeding stock.

We are sorry that more Calloway farmers did not attend the Dairy picnic at Mr. Hughes' last week, for they missed an excellent program and a fine lunch which Mr. Hughes provided.

Prof. Ely of the University of Kentucky, discussed the government program to eradicate Bang's Disease or abortion. He said that the Government would pay farmers to get rid of diseased cows, and that it would be necessary to get 300 cows signed before the work could be done in the county. He also complimented the dairy herd improvement work being done in Graves and Calloway (only two herds in Calloway, Hood and Gingles).

Mr. Spars of the Mayfield Milk Plant told the dairymen that farmers of Graves county lost $5,000 per month because of sour milk. He said the loss could be largely prevented through the use of sanitary buckets and proper cooling of the milk. We should use only heavy tin buckets which have no joints or open seams to hold dirt.

The Murray Milk Plant cooperated with the dairymen in proper cooling demonstration. Mr. Scott tells us that Calloway dairymen lose many dollars from sour milk.

Considerable attention was given to the value of producing high quality milk and cream. Why should we use high priced feed and long hours of labor in producing a low quality product?

I see that the Government is eliminating the slums from cities. I wonder what will be done about eliminating slums from the country. How many farm houses are poorly lighted, poorly heated, poorly decorated and inconvenient?

Rotary Club Has Picnic Following Attendance Contest

The Murray Rotary Club of which Vernon Subbelfield, Sr., is president enjoyed a fish-fry and watermelon picnic at the Baptist Picnic grounds last Thursday evening, August 16.

The picnic was given by the group, headed by K. C. Frazer, who lost an attendance contest. Those led by Harry Sleed won the contest and consequently were guests of the losers.

Washer pitching and marble games constituted the principal diversions of the evening, preliminary to the feast. Fried fish, lemonade, watermelons, and "trimmings" formed the menu for the repast.

All are cordially invited to attend these services next Sunday: Bible study in various classes at 9:45 a. m. Regular worship at 10:45. The evening service will begin at 7:45 instead of 8 o'clock, and Prof. E. H. Smith will be the speaker at this hour.

The mid-week services will also begin at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening.

New School Law Provisions of Interest to General Public

Dr. James H. Richmond, Frankfort, superintendent of public instruction, has sent out to members of school boards and to public school administrators of the state copies of the new common school laws of Kentucky. This bulletin includes all sections of the statutes relative to the common schools of the "commonwealth" including the acts of the general assembly of 1934.

This publication includes the new school code which has changed many of the provisions from what they were in the old code. Attention is called to some of the changes which are noted upon a cursory examination as follows:

The new law states that a beginning child may enter school at the regular opening time in the fall if he is six years old or before September 30, and he may enter at the opening of the second semester if he is six years old on or before February 28. The provisions of the old law was that a child could enter school at the opening of either semester if he would be six years old within ninety days after the opening of the school term.

The new law provides that such part of the annual state taxes shall be used for the benefit of the schools as the general assembly may appropriate for that purpose, while the old law stipulated that a certain percentage of the property tax money should be used for the support of the common schools. The new law therefore makes the amount settled and definite from the beginning of the biennium while the old arrangement left the amount dependent upon the payment of taxes throughout the state.

The board of education under the old law, was composed of the state superintendent, the attorney general and secretary of state while the new law provides for a state board of education consisting of the superintendent of public instruction and seven lay members who shall be appointed by the governor of the state. The provisions are such that when the system is fully installed these board members will be appointed for terms of four years and the terms of only two members will expire in any one year.

The old law provided for county school districts, independent graded school districts, districts containing cities of the first class, districts containing cities of the second class, third class and fourth class, making a total of six types of school districts, each of them having its own particular set of school laws and conditions under which they operated. The new law provides for only two classes of districts. They are the county school districts and the independent school districts. The independent school districts include the city districts and all have the same law under which to operate.

The new law gives a definite appropriate oath of office for the use in swearing in the board members, while the old law left the question open which made it necessary to use a very antiquated oath including the assertion that the board member had not recently taken a duel, etc.

Under the old law members of county boards of education received a per diem of $5 and in addition thereto were allowed their actual and necessary expenses in attending board meetings. The new law does not provide for the payment of a per diem to county school board members but does state that they may receive their actual and necessary expenses for attending meetings. City board members under the Kentucky laws have never received pay for their services on the school board.

The new law makes two marked changes in the matter of issuing teachers certificates. Under the old law not only the state department of education but the state university and each of the four state teachers colleges had the authority to issue teachers certificates under certain general provisions laid down by the law and the state board of education. Under the new law all certificates are to be issued by the state department of education. The other change is relative to the requirements for the certificate. Under the old law certificates could be granted to teachers and prospective teachers who had finished a four-year high school course and thirty-two hours of college training. Under the new law high school graduation and sixty-four semester hours of college training are necessary for the elementary certificate issued.

The new law provides for only six classes of certificates. They are: Provisional elementary certificate; provisional high school certificate; standard high school certificate; provisional certificate in administration and supervision; and standard certificate in administration and supervision. Each of these certificates requires graduation or more from a standard four-year college or university except provisional elementary, which may be issued on sixty-four hours of college credit.

Ninety-five per cent of the farmers in Montgomery county are growing korean lespedeza. They used approximately 100,000 pounds of seed this year.

SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED SHOES, WEARING APPAREL

Again the Red Cross is asking for clothing of any kind for school children of Calloway county. The need is great and the means of fulfilling the needs this year are less than in previous years including last year. This call has been an annual one but anyone having anything usable for school children are asked to treat the matter as one of the most worthy causes.

One of the most needed articles is shoes and another much needed article is trousers for boys. The Red Cross is not furnishing overalls as it did last year and this demand is also very hard to meet.

Persons with families are asked to search their closets and storage spots for anything that can be used in the way of wearing apparel for children. Often parts of adult clothing can be worn with slight alterations. Get them out and turn them over to the Red Cross. Mrs. B. M. Maltin has charge of the work and if you are unable to get them to her at the basement of the post office, notify her and some arrangement will be made.

Many children stay out of school each year on account of lack of clothing. Many start with aid and unable to get more must stop. People with usable garments can be of great aid to the county, the individuals and the cause of education with little expense to them. This act is also a moral obligation of those more fortunate than some. Don't withhold your garments because they are not good as new or as good as you would want your child to wear.

INFECTED SORES CAUSE BLOOD POISON!

Not always, of course—but a sufficient number of times to make it a mistake to ever leave your family without protection. Cross Salve, for more than a generation, has been used with almost miraculous success in the treatment of all forms of infections—sores, burns, boils, skin diseases, hemorrhoids. One of the most powerful disinfectants known supplies the germicidal power; a velvet smooth oil base affords instant, soothing relief and assists nature in the quickest possible healing. Lynn Grove Family In Motor Crash

Mrs. Sam Pace, Lynn Grove, is recovering from a broken collar bone and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Pace, is recovering from bruises received in an automobile smashup on the Benton Highway Saturday afternoon. Another daughter, Earline, received cuts about the face and body.

The automobile, which was driven by Sam Pace, did not leave the road.

Another daughter, Nell, also was in the machine with the daughter of a neighbor, Willie Mae Short.

The family was en route to Paducah to visit a married daughter, Mrs. Dow Clark. Evelyn Pace was pinned underneath the overturned vehicle. Despite her broken collar-bone, Mrs. Pace, who is a small woman, is said to have lifted the car off her daughter.

The other occupants of the car were uninjured. After receiving first aid treatment at Benton, the accident victims were removed to a hospital here. Afterwards they were taken to their home.

Gunter's Flat

Men are very busy cutting tobacco and majority of the weed is fine. The women are busy canning fruit.

Miss Ruth Stealy of near Hazel was a Saturday guest of Miss Minnie Marshall Adams.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Finitis Holland is improving slowly from an accident some few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wells and Mrs. Otto Winchester of Hazel were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Scruggs of Paris Wednesday.

Miss Willie Mae Paschall, Illa Nell Brandon and James Ralph Wells were guests of Miss Mary Elaine Brandon Saturday evening.

Mrs. Claude Lister was carried to the hospital Sunday for an operation for appendicitis. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Adams spent Sunday in Tennessee the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Onas Thompson.

As news is scarce the letter is very short but hope for more news next week. "Rose Bud".

South Howard Blanks Fairview Nine, 8-0

South Howard blanked Fairview 8-0 on the local ground last Saturday. Brann was the losing pitcher for Fairview while Brown added another win to his long list of victories.

The game Friday between Hardin and South Howard was called at the end of the fourth on account of rain. No runs had been made when the game was called. On Saturday, August 23, Hazel will visit the South Howard field in the first game between these two outfits this year. Hazel has a group of outstanding players and a close game is expected.

"Only Fire Can Damage My Property"

That, in effect, is what a property owner says when he insures his property against fire only.

But experience says windstorm, explosion, falling aircraft, flood, etc.—too—are major causes of serious financial loss.

The prudent property owner insures his property against, not only fire, but all threatening hazards. That sounds expensive, but actually is not—a fact we'll gladly explain. No obligation.
